MISSION STATEMENT

To support foster and adoptive parents in achieving safety, permanence and well being for the children and youth in our care.

WHAT IS IDFAPA? (Idaho Foster and Adoptive Parents Association)

The Idaho Foster and Adoptive Parents Association (IDFAPA) is a non-profit volunteer organization, working to advance the professional role of foster parents and speaking out in order to protect the children we serve. By advocating for improvements in the child welfare system, the IDFAPA helps to insure that foster homes remain the best possible option for children needing foster care placement. IDFAPA also works to make legislative changes, to represent the foster parents of Idaho in the National Foster Parent Association (NFPA), and to represent our interests to the Department of Health and Welfare.
